Dear colleagues!

Welcome to the VI International Forum of Cardiology and Internal Medicine!

An extensive scientific program has been prepared for you, including lectures, symposiums, schools, clinical studies. Leading specialists in the field of diseases of internal organs take part in it: cardiologists, neurologists, pulmonologists, endocrinologists, nephrologists, rheumatologists, gastroenterologists and general practitioners. Special attention is paid to the combined diseases, the number of which is continuously growing, including in connection with the aging of the population and the increasing effectiveness of treatment of acute and chronic situations.

It is noteworthy that this year, within the framework of the Forum, joint symposiums with cardiological and therapeutic societies of different countries of the world will be held. This allows us to establish close cooperation and develop cooperation at the international level.

All participants will be issued certificates indicating the number of points of continuous medical education.

I hope that the forum will give you the opportunity to systematize and acquire new knowledge in the field of treatment and prevention of diseases of cardiovascular system and internal organs, which will improve the effectiveness of your daily work.
